REPTAL ASSAULT AT THE FORT.

Particulars of the assault case at Fort Saskatchewan are to hand this morning. It appears that Geo. La Fage, who was known in Edmonton as "the wind-jammer," and who last fall and winter worked the line between Edmonton and Lacombe with a lamp-wick appliance, met his uncle's wife below Fort Saskatchewan and demanded a sum of money of him. Whether or not the money was owing him is not definitely known but it is generally believed that he simply demanded money from his uncle who was known to have some about him at the time. Upon his uncle refusing to pay him he then took a canoe and hurried down the river. The mounted police were sent after him and he was overtaken at Paradis crossing, taken back to the Fort and lodged in the police station. He is now awaiting his trial. The elder man is recovering from the effects of the assault.

The Building Boom

is now on and the demand for lumber is very keen. If you want to get materials on the ground in time for your building you had better order from us at once. The undecided man puts things off. He always waits until tomorrow or he can change his mind. Then he waits until the next day so he can change it back again. In the meantime, lumber gets scarce, prices go up and he blames the lumber combine. Alberta lumber is scarce now, but we are shipping in B.C. lumber as fast as we can get it at the rate of a car a day, and we can take care of your order if you give us a chance.

ELFTIME is now here and the flies are always present. Better place your orders at once for screen doors and windows. It is much easier to keep out the flies than to drive them out when they get in.

WEDNESDAY MAY 6TH, 1903.

Frank Deseried

Calgary Herald.

Frank, Alberta, May 4.—At an emergency meeting of the Board of Trade Saturday, Premier Haultain, who started last Friday afternoon, came back as soon as he reached the other side of the slide. He met Mr. McHenry, engineer of the C.P.R., and that gentleman expressed the opinion that the remaining peak of the mountain was creeping slowly, and that he considered the town very unsafe. Immediately upon hearing this Premier Haultain wired back that he had important information to impart to the people of the town. He was called at once to meet him. As soon as he arrived a large majority of the citizens attended a meeting and he explained to them Engineer McHenry's views, and said he did not wish in any way to act as an alarmist, yet he deemed this information of such import that he could not leave without first reassuring and apprising the town of the possible impending danger. Mr. Haultain further stated that he had made arrangements with the C.P.R. to have special trains here to convey the people to different points along the line according to accommodation. Those who were unable to pay for means and substance would be cared for and everything possible would be done to make the best of a very unusual, not to say dangerous situation. The C.P.R. are moving all their men engaged in the construction work to a place of safety, and likewise contractors Breckenridge and Lund. The telegraph office is also removed to the Sun-tarium for the time being. The railway company is also removing its rolling stock at this place to a place of safety. Everything is being done to avert, if possible, another calamity.

Frank Deseried.

Highmore, Alberta, May 2.—The departure of Frank by the townspeople was completed tonight. This community of rapid mushroom growth and a future of inquiry is in the air. The building, and part of the town site still remain, but the buildings are untenanted, and the terror driven inhabitants have fled from the menacing shadow of the disrupted Turbulent mountain.

The reason for the depopulation is obvious. An estimated quantity of forty million tons of earth and limestone hangs from the eastern peak of the mountain threatening to descend at any moment and demolish the building which still remain intact in the valley beneath.

Last night there was no thought to be an immediate peril to that portion of the town which escaped from the terrible rush of the gigantic slide of Wednesday morning, and the inhabitants of Frank had showed their courage and were optimistic and cheerful. So encouraging was the outlook that Premier Haultain and the government officials were on their way home.

Chief Engineer McHenry of the C.P.R. however, was on the eastern end of the mass of rock, which fills the village and for three hours had carefully watched the mountain side, and, removing his eyes from it. Just what he saw nobody knows, but when Premier Haultain arrived to take the train, Mr. McHenry informed him that the mountain was creeping, and that it was not safe for anyone to remain in the town. He explained that in the rear there were large fissures, caused by part of the mountain becoming separated from the main portion.

This detached portion, he said, might come busting down at any moment and snuff out the lives and cover the homes and stores of those still remaining. Upon the advice of Mr. McHenry, Premier Haultain made his way, for the third time across the treacherous trail and conferred with the Board of Trade and Mounted Police officers. The result of the deliberations was that the policeman received orders to request everyone in Frank to leave and go to a place of safety, or remain at their own peril.

Politics on the Coast

Victoria, B.C., May 4.—British Columbia has a political sensation as a result of the disclosures made Saturday at the Legislative assembly being held into the scheme for building the Columbia & Western Railway, which had not been paid.

The act provided that the land be awarded to alternate blocks contiguous, or as close as possible, to the line. Later arrangements were made to grant the company two blocks in Southeast Kootenay, which are hundreds of miles from the road, and which are alleged to be rich in coal and oil. Crown grants were issued at no delivred.

Ex-premier James Dunsmuir gave evidence Saturday before the enquiry, which was called to enquire into why these blocks should have been selected. The Premier stated that he had cancelled the grants because he learned that everything was not right. The order-in-council granting these two blocks had been made in his absence. He made an order approving the grant in September, being told the province would save 300,000 acres by the arrangement.

Mr. Wells, commissioner of lands and works, went to Montreal with the grants to the C. E. F., but returned with them. The witness then learned that there was something wrong in connection with the deal, and he cancelled the grants. He did this as a result of a certain thing, he would not say what, that Mr. Wells had told him. He was told that Mr. Wells had been offered 30,000 acres of the land if he would have over the grants to the C. P. R. He as Premier, cancelled the grants as he did not want any crooked business while he was in the government.

Winnipeg Markets

Commercial, May 2nd.

WHEAT.—There is little to report in the market for Manitoba wheat. It has been quiet and firm all the week, with the demand not so good as last week. The price has varied a little, according to the fluctuations in the American markets. At the beginning of the week spot 1 hard sold for 76 3/4 cents, but most of the week the price held at 76 1/2 cents. With the advance in the American markets yesterday the price advanced to 77c, and we quote values at close of business yesterday as follows: 1 hard 77c, 1 Nor. 75 3/4c, 2 Nor. 73 1/2c, 3 Nor. 70c, and No. 4 wheat 66c, spot or delivery first half May in store, Fort William or Port Arthur. For delivery last half May, 76 3/4c, and for June, 76 1/2c basis 1 hard.

OATS.—There is very little doing in oats. Local feed merchants are taking about the usual quantity for feed purposes and are paying for these 30 to 31c per bushel for carlots of No. 2 white on track here. Feed grade is worth 28c. At Fort William No. 1 white oats are worth 31 1/2c per bushel, No. 2 white, 30 1/2c.

BARLEY.—The market is almost nominal as there is no barley offering. About 30 to 31c per bushel is the value for feed grades at country points.

Dr. Smith and his sister of Star, did us a flying visit this week. While in the village they were guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Rush.

Many of the bridges recently erected over our creeks have taken an extended leave of absence. As the bridge across the Vermilion a mile east of us has gone, settlers and land seekers find travelling exceedingly unpleasant. For foot passengers rafts are being eagerly made use of on many parts of the river. At the time of writing we are informed that official word has been sent to the foreman of the bridge crew to put a substantial bridge across the Vermilion as soon as the water recedes sufficiently to allow of such work proceeding.

Mr. Hawthorne, proprietor of the boarding house is erecting an addition to the rear of his present building. This will make Mr. Hawthorne's premises much more comfortable and commodious.

On Tuesday, April 28th, Mr. Perrett, Inspector of Public Schools for the Edmonton District, paid our village an official visit. The forenoon of Tuesday was spent in the inspection of our school which was opened on March 16th last.

Prairie fires and swollen creeks are now in fashion. During the former time the grandeur of the former far exceeds the much admired fireworks of any provincial or Dominion exhibition.

April 30, 1903.

REMARKS

Quite a lot of the seedling had been done before the late snow-fall which retarded the work for some days. The winds of Sunday and Monday, though cold, dried the ground very much.

Mr. More and family have arrived from St. Paul, Minn. to take up their abode south of here in Township 50-24. He has taken a homestead a few miles east of his railway land, which he purchased on a former visit.

This section of country, including the Clearwater and Beaumont settlements, the Blakely Creek and Lake districts, is generally admitted to be unequalled for the fertility of its soil, being throughout a rich, deep, black clay loam, free from any trace of gumbo or alkali. Excellent water is obtainable in all parts. Very well settled, lands can still be purchased from the owners at very reasonable rates. Investors at very reasonable rates. Settling settlers can make no mistake in coming this way.

Mr. F. Paradis, formerly of our village, now of Edmonton, came to spend a few days among friends this week.

Miss Emma Lavigne is at present stopping at the siding at Otoskwan.

Miss In Chappelle and Miss Dargie are back from the Edmonton General Hospital fully recovered.

The children of the village school are practicing the singing of hymns suitable for the month of May devotionals. Miss Lavigne is assisting as organist.

HAROLD NELSON

Next season, Mr. Harold Nelson, the young Canadian actor, who has attained such success this year, will be under the sole management of C. P. Walker, a proprietor of several noted Canadian and American theaters. The Free Press says: "The growth and prosperity of Manitoba and Northwest towns justify, in Mr. Walker's opinion, the sending to them of more complete dramatic presentations, and he has planned to equip Mr. Nelson with productions superior to any that have heretofore been seen in this western country outside of the Winnipeg theater. Mr. Walker's plans for next season it may be stated include the management of other high-class dramatic and comedy companies so that the provincial and territorial towns may expect a greater number and a much superior class of attractions than heretofore."

A portion of the ROWLAND ESTATE, otherwise known as "THE SYNDICATE."

Plans and Prices can be seen at the Office on and after the date mentioned.

This is the closest and best property available, and the choicest in and about Edmonton. The furthest part is from 10 to 15 minutes from the post office. The property is eminently the people's portion: is not controlled by a policy of inertia dictated by "Hebraic Hatred." The surveys conform to existing ones, and the streets will be projected to their legitimate confines. Building Sites on the verge of the hill overlooking the mighty Saskatchewan, the foliage and verdure of whose banks is not exceeded by the fiercest tropics or softest Pacific scenes, abound. Prices will be uniform and moderate, tempered as a corrective of the present indefinite craze.

TERMS.—One third Cash. Balance 6 and 12 months, interest 8 per cent. Agreements $2 each, transfers free.

Be Guided by Experience.

Farmer's Advocate.

New settlers coming into the west are liable to be under the impression that our whole country is a broad, level fertile prairie, with uniformity of climatic and other conditions. But it will not do to assume that the rules that apply to cultivation in a certain part will apply all over. In this there is a certain amount of truth, but when it comes to carrying out the details of plowing, sowing and cultivation, it will be found that different sections and different soils in the same section frequently require entirely different methods of treatment. To know just what those methods should be, the new settler cannot do better than watch the successful farmers who are already in his neighborhood, or learn the methods pursued under like conditions. By way of a hint, don't begin to show the people of the west how to farm, by practicing methods that are in vogue in Britain, Eastern Canada, or any other part of the world, unless they are universally accepted as being applicable to conditions in the west. Experimenting was extensively and expensively carried on by the first settlers of the West, and the methods now in operation are the outcome of such wide experience.

The climate of the West, although generally uniform varies sufficiently to affect not only the kind of cultivation practiced, but also the class of farming followed. That part of the West lying at the foot of the mountains and throughout the North Saskatchewan valley and all Manitoba and Eastern Assiniboia, though differing widely in temperature, has sufficient rainfall to allow of carrying on mixed farming, while a large tract lying west of a line passing through Moose Jaw is essentially a ranching country, not being so liberally supplied with rain as are the other sections. The relation of rainfall to cultivation is, of course, obvious.

Then coming nearer each man's home sandy land will require slightly different treatment to a heavier clay loam; the river valleys and flats cannot be treated as the uplands. Some land can be sown the first year to crops of flax and oats, while on other soil such seeding is simply a waste of time and labor. In some districts where the rainfall is slight, the summer-fallow is absolutely necessary, and fall plowing is seldom practiced. In other parts these conditions are directly reversed. The experience of old settlers and one's own observation are invaluable, until familiarity with the district gives a knowledge of its particular requirements.

MORE SETTLERS FOR SASKATCHEWAN

A telegram to Arlwin and Williams yesterday from a point in the western States stated that colony of two thousand settlers has been arranged for in western Saskatchewan. The land will be settled on immediately. This is a private report and is entirely different from similar reports which appeared in the latest Winnipeg papers.
